

MAY

inspiration guide

Celebrating the Journey: 5 Tips for Meaningful End-of-Year Reports

Read Becker's new blog offering practical, heartfelt suggestions to help early childhood educators write student reports and narratives that truly reflect each child.

Bright & Beautiful Branches

A colorful and collaborative process art invitation to bring a burst of spring cheer to any space.

Alphabet Picnic

There's no time for a picnic like the spring! Gather your basket, blanket, and a variety of fruits and veggies for an edible alphabet adventure.

The Secret Life of Bugs

Springtime insect fun and a variety of activity ideas from our friends at Yellow Door.

Spring Symmetry

Download our free symmetry cards to play a spring-themed matching game or memory game!

Growing Great Teachers: How Mentorship Blossoms in the Spring

Spring is a season of growth for children AND educators alike! Our new blog highlights the power of mentorship in early childhood programs and explores how to foster reflection, connection, and professional growth as the school year winds down.

BECKER'S

artfulgoods
by Becker's®